ABOUT THE FOUNDER

Dr. Linda F. Delaney

Linda F. Delaney is a nationally recognized leadership development expert, dynamic speaker, and the founder of LFD Consulting, LLC. With over 20 years of experience, she equips emerging and executive leaders across industries with purpose-driven, principle-based strategies that foster authenticity, resilience, and transformative growth.

Holding a Bachelor of Arts in Communication from Charter Oak State College and an MBA from Belhaven University, Linda combines academic rigor with practical insights. She further honed her leadership expertise at Harvard Kennedy School, where she earned a certificate in Authentic Leadership Development through the Delta Leadership Institute (2015). A captivating and energizing speaker, she has delivered impactful training and facilitation for prestigious organizations such as the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the City of Memphis, the U.S. Small Business Administration, and numerous national conferences. She is also a published author and the former host of Another Perspective, a long-running television show dedicated to leadership insights.

As a certified Lean Six Sigma Black Belt (LSSBB), Linda specializes in guiding organizations through continuous process improvement, optimizing efficiency and performance. She earned her Ph.D. in Urban Higher Education from Jackson State University (August 2025), where her research explored the intersection of race and gender.

Whether as a keynote speaker, moderator, or facilitator, Linda's mission remains unwavering: "To change lives by empowering individuals to discover their purpose and unlock their highest potential."
